Step 2: Download a torrent client

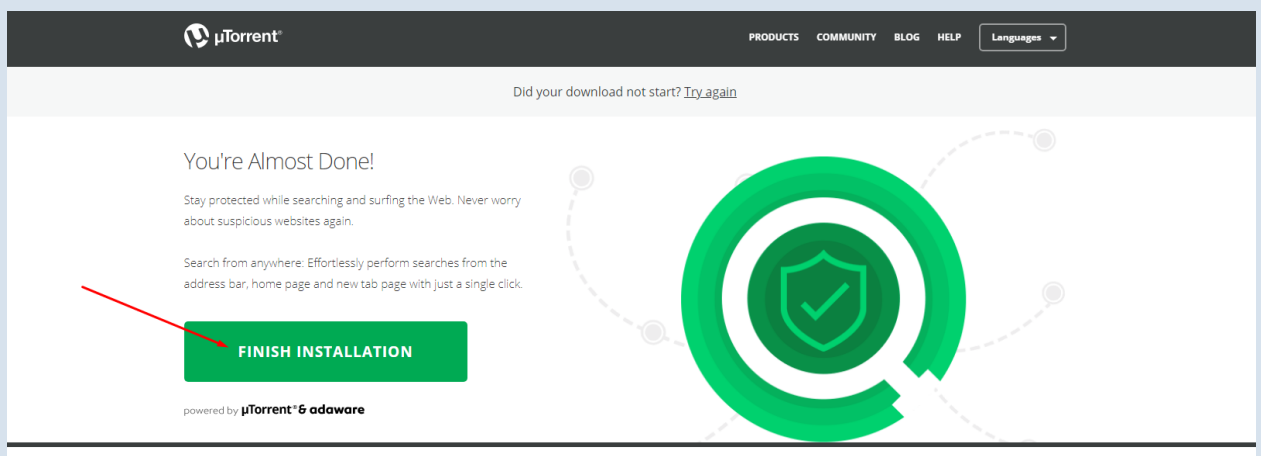

You know that in order to be able to download torrent files from torrent trackers, you need to have a torrent client on your computer. Have a look how you can ...
... download and set up uTorrent client for Windows.

- 1) Go to the official website of uTorrent and click "Free download for Windows" on their home page.

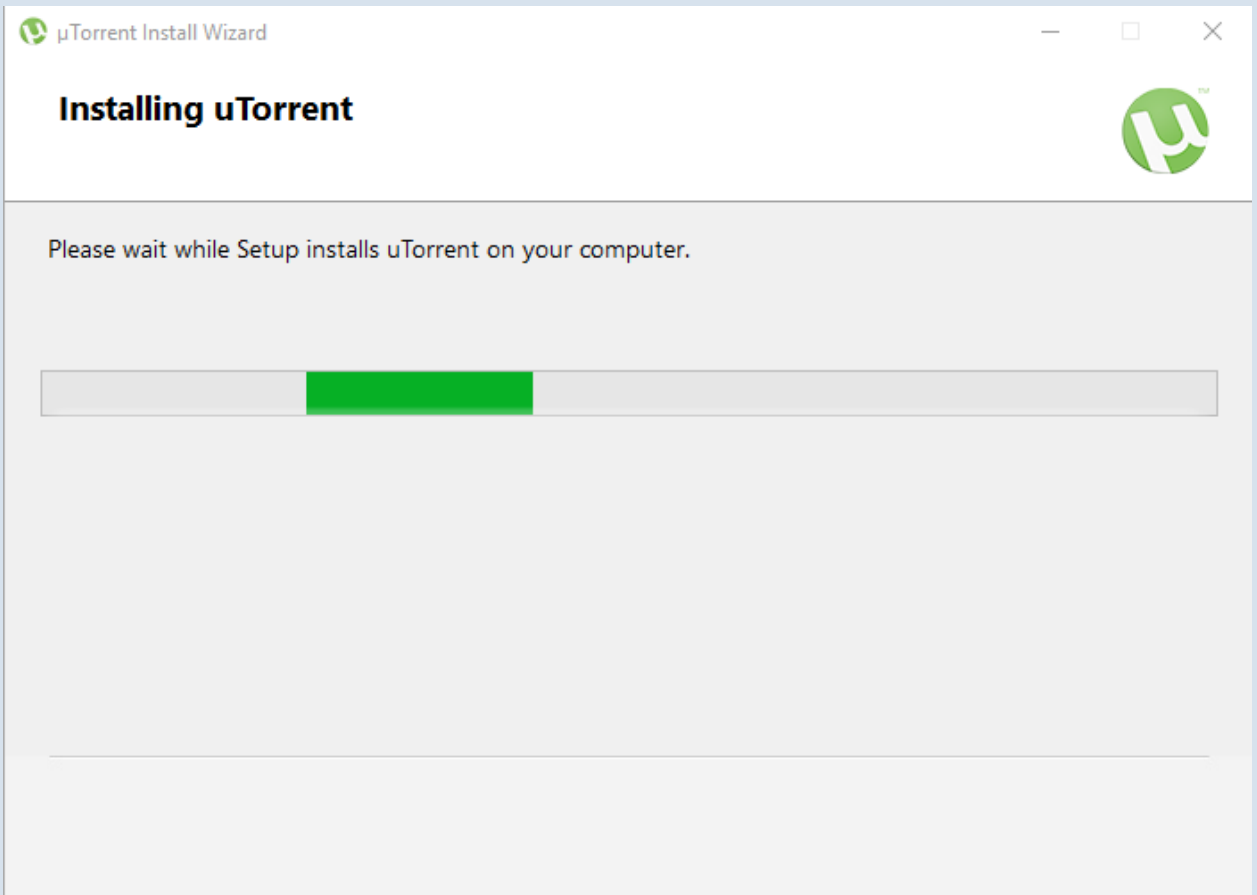

Note: they offer a Pro version, which is paid, but if you are not an avid torrent user, free one will be quite enough for you.

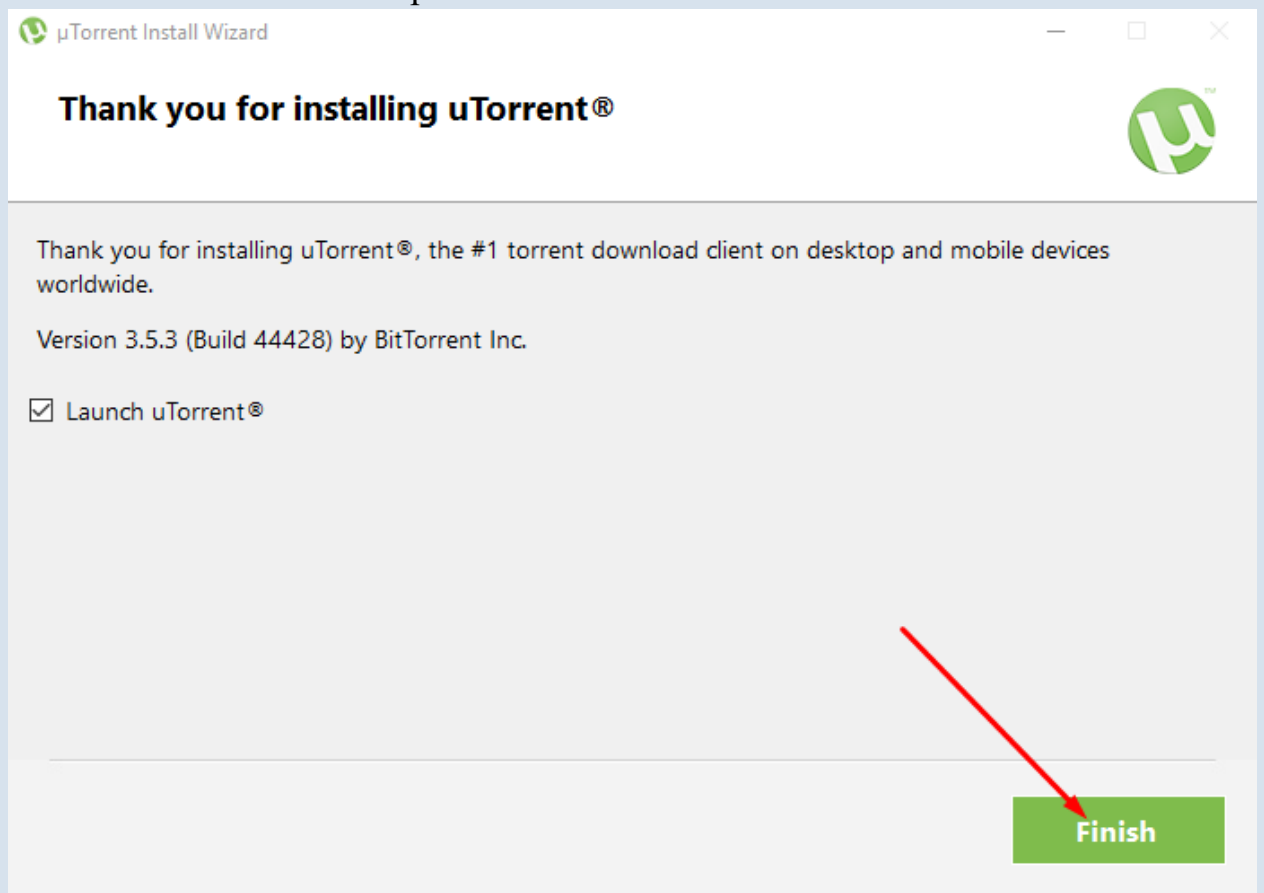

- 2) After the client is downloaded, click "Finish installation" to launch the process of installation.

- 3) Follow the instructions of the client and accept the Terms of Service to finish the installation.

4) Then click "Finish" and open the client for work.

Step 3: Do tests before torrenting via VPN

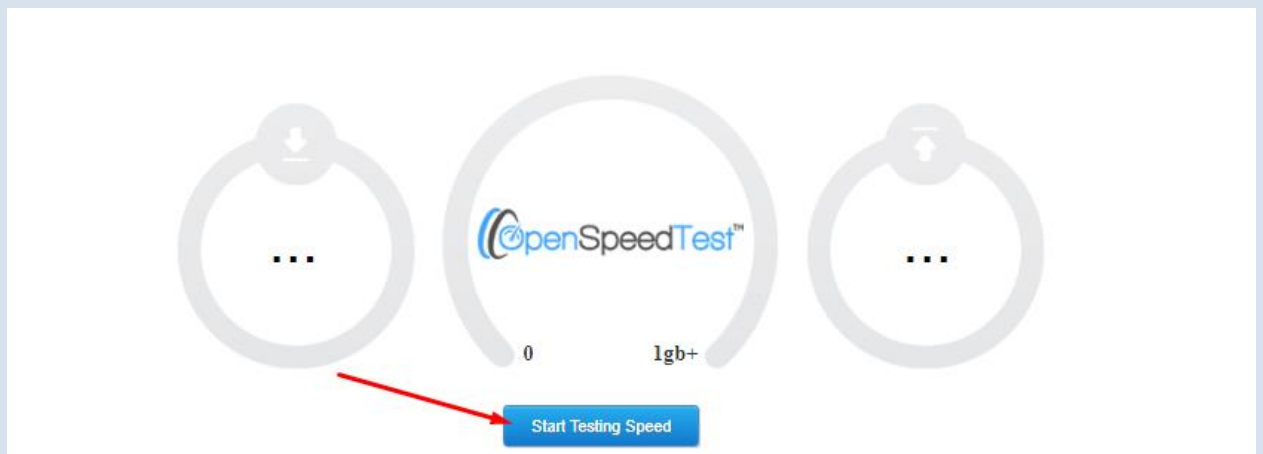

Be sure your VPN works well for torrenting. Conduct the following tests to know if the VPN service suits you.

Test 1: What's my IP

- 1) Turn your VPN on and change your true IP.
- 2) Go to the torrent tracker you are going to use for torrenting.
- 3) Open our "What's my IP" page and check your IP address and location. If it is not your true geo-location and IO, then your VPN doesn't leak IPs.

Test 2: Speed Test

- 1) Turn your VPN on and change your true IP.
- 2) Go to the torrent tracker you are going to use for torrenting.
- 3) Start downloading any torrent you want.
- 4) Visit our "Speed test" page.
- 5) Click "Star testing speed".

- 6) Check the results.

Test 3: IP Download test

You can also check if something is downloaded from your real IP address with the help of our IP download test.

- √ Just go to our "IP download test" page.
- √ The system will define your IP.
- √ Click "View" and see the results.
